DETAILED ACTION

Responsive to communications entered 2/25/2011. Claims 38, 47,48, 53-70 are pending.

The following election of species has been necessitated by applicant's amendment to the claims entered 2/25/2011 therein introducing species previously not considered in the examination of elected group II.

Species Election

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, or a single grouping of patentably indistinct species, for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

The genus identified below is indicated in bold.

From claim(s) 63-64,66-67,69-70: Applicant is to elect a species of daily dosing selected from the group consisting of: once (24 hr); twice (12 hr); and three times (8 hr). Currently claims 38, 55, 65 and 68 are generic.

The members of the genus of daily dosing are independent and/or distinct because the group members have unique physiological properties in that, for example dosing once daily would require a more stable sustained release carrier than a dose with a half-life of only 8 hrs. Furthermore, a method for treating pain in a child for 24 hours would require less active ingredient(s) than that for an adult.

There is a search and/or examination burden for the patentably distinct species as set forth above because at least the following reason(s) apply:

The prior art applicable to one species may not necessarily be applicable to another species.

The species may raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph;

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or a grouping of patentably indistinct species to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected species or grouping of patentably indistinct species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

The election may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the election of species requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected species or grouping of patentably indistinct species.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species, or groupings of patentably indistinct species from which election is required, are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing them to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the species unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other species.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
